  High frequency (200 kHz) survey data represents the first signal return at a sounding location and will include suspended solids, known as "fluff", if present. Low frequency (24 kHz) survey data normally penetrates through this "fluff" layer to depict elevations of consolidated bottom material. Low frequency accuracies may vary depending on channel conditions and fathometer settings.

DISCLAIMER: The United States Government furnishes these data and the recipient accepts and uses them with the express understanding that the data are not warranted for any purpose other than that for which they were collected. The user is responsible for the results and accuracy of any application of the data for other than the intended purpose.
 Data Constants: Hydrographic survey data is subject to change rapidly due to several factors including but not limited to dredging operations, channel migration, and other natural processes. The Army Corps of Engineers accepts no responsibility for changes in the hydrographical conditions which develop after the date of the survey. The information depicted on this map represents the results of a survey and is not intended to be used for navigation. It is not to be considered a representation of the general condition existing at that time.
